Johnson expands into Western Australia with Seagreen Marine

Johnson Motor Yachts Australia has appointed Seagreen Marine of Fremantle as their Western Australian distributor, to take its range of luxury motor yachts to west coast boat buyers.

Johnson considered a number of local agents but settled on Seagreen due to the company's professionalism and location on the water in Fremantle.

Seagreen Marine CEO Bob Lushy said the addition of the Johnson brand complements the company's existing portfolio of boats.

"There is a real demand here in Western Australia, for handmade, large - volume, quality, first-class finished motoryachts" said Lushy.

"People will take the time here to investigate and recognise the difference in a motor yacht and don't just want what their mate or everyone else has"
